Q: php base64_decode don't decode url encoded string I'm trying to use base64_decode to decode a string, but it doesn't decode url encoded chars. `$url_encoded_text = urlencode("");`
`$decoded_string = base64_decode($url_encoded_text);` I expect to get: `http%3A%2F%2Fwiki.demo.com%2F%E2%80%AC` But instead it gets: `http%3A%2F%2Fwiki.demo.com%2F%2F` Any ideas why? Thanks

A: Your base64 encoded string contains not a URL encoded string. When you encode a string the encoded string is percent encoded but not URL encoded. The `%2F` are encoded to `%2F` but in the URL they are a slash which must be encoded to `%2F` in the URL. So `base64_decode($url_encoded_text)` is the correct result. If you want to decode percent encoded strings in php you can use `unpack` with 'H' (decode percent signs) `$url_encoded_text = urlencode("");`
`$decoded_string = base64_decode(unpack('H*', base64_decode($url_encoded_text)));`
