 Superior Institute of Technology Superior Institute of Technology (SIT) is one of the most reputed engineering schools in India with a history dating back to 1950. Located in the city of Hyderabad, SIT is a constituent college of Osmania University, one of India's oldest and largest public universities. SIT is ranked amongst the top engineering schools in India. History In 1950, Osmania University decided to establish the Hyderabad College of Engineering. The foundation stone of Hyderabad College of Engineering was laid by the then Prime Minister of India Jawahar Lal Nehru. The college was opened on 14 July 1950 and was declared open by the then Governor of Andhra Pradesh, Vidyavachaspati Ramakrishna Rao. The campus and its buildings were designed by noted British architect Sir Edwin Lutyens and gifted by the government of India to Osmania University. The college was renamed as Osmania Institute of Technology. It was later merged with Vijayawada Institute of Technology
